Hi Luiz,

I'm trying to find the error but with no success.

It's better if you post more details, or we can have a chat in skype to talk about that.

The system was wrongly calculating the number of cases per regimen by summing the number of cases by medicine, but the same case is using several medicines, so it's a wrong calculation.

A new calculation was used, computing the case by month of treatment, reaching the correct numbers.

It's already available for validation in <http://www.etbmanager.org>
