Description Hi Alexey and Gustavo,  As Gustavo requested, here are a couple of comments on version 4.0.0.9.  1. My proposed warning message when importing stock data with missing on order or on hand info: "The file you are importing is missing stock on hand and/or stock on order quantities. Continue?"  2. The names in the spreadsheet name manager are okay with me. I would change one of the spreadsheet template headers, though. The last column should say "Expiration date of the stock on order (optional)" since that may not be known and people may need to leave it blank.  3. My proposed error message when importing an Excel file that doesn't have named ranges: "Your spreadsheet is not formatted correctly for import. See the user guide for formatting instructions or select another file."  4. I noticed that the stock template I generated did not continue the medicines from my forecasting. Is that coming in the next release?  Thanks,  Julie

Changes to be done:

- When missing all stock on hand ranges change the message to: Title: Warning - Text: "The file you are importing is missing stock on hand information. Do you want to continue?" with buttons yes and no, with yes selected as default. The current message is attached.
- When missing all stock on order ranges change the message to: Title: Warning - Text: "The file you are importing is missing stock on order information. Do you want to continue?" with buttons yes and no, with yes selected as default. The current message is attached.
